

"DAOI" redirects here. For the ancient people in Europe named Daoi, see Dacians.

Aéroport International de Chlef (IATA: CFK, ICAO: DAOI), also known as Aboubakr Belkaid Airport, is an airport 5 kilometres (3.1 mi) north of the city of Chlef, in Algeria.

The DAOI-Chlef VOR/DME (Ident: CLF) is located on the field.^[6]

During World War II, the facility was known as "Warnier Airfield". It was a major Twelfth Air Force base of operations during the North African Campaign against the German Afrika Korps.

Contents

1 Airlines and destinations

2 See also

3 References

4 External links

Airlines and destinations^[edit]

Airlines Destinations

Air Algérie Algiers, Marseille, Paris–Charles de Gaulle

ASL Airlines France Seasonal: Paris–Charles de Gaulle

See also^[edit]

List of airports in Algeria

Transport in Algeria