

The National Institutes of Health, Islamabad (NIH) (Urdu: قومی ادارۂ صحت), is a Pakistani research institute located in Islamabad, Pakistan.

The institute is an autonomous body of Ministry of National Health Services, Regulation and Coordination, mainly responsible for biomedical and health related research along with vaccine manufacturing.[1][2][3][4]