

The Hospital das Clínicas da Faculdade de Medicina da Universidade de São Paulo (University of São Paulo Faculty of Medicine Clinics Hospital) is a complex of health institutions, located in various regions of the city of São Paulo, Brazil. Founded on April 19, 1944, it occupies a total area of 600,000 square meters and offers 2,400 beds, distributed among its eight specialized institutes and two assisting hospitals.[1]

Contents

1 Buildings, Institutes and assisting hospitals

2 Clinics journal

2.1 Abstracting and indexing

3 Chronology

3.1 Units

3.2 Assisting hospitals

4 References

5 External links

Buildings, Institutes and assisting hospitals[edit]

The largest part of the complex, located in the central region of São Paulo in the Consolação district, consists of:

Administration Building

Central Institute (IHC)

Heart Institute (Instituto do Coração - INCOR)

Orthopedics and Traumatology Institute (IOT)

Psychiatry Institute (IPq)

Radiology Institute (INRAD)

Children's Institute (Instituto da Criança) (ICr)

Instituto Dr Arnaldo de Vieira

Medical Investigation Laboratories (LIM) (building under project, the governor have decided to give the State Secretary of Health building to create this research institute).

Clinics Journal

On other locations, the complex is divided into:

Suzano Assisting Hospital, located in the town of Suzano;

Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation - IMREA (former Division of Rehabilitation Medicine)

Vila Mariana Unit, located on the southern part of the city of São Paulo;

Umarizal Unit, located nearby the base;

Cotoxó Assisting Hospital, located in Vila Pompéia, in the city of São Paulo;

Medical Investigation Laboratories, administrative unit located in the Cerqueira César district;

Rebouças convention center, located across the street from the base hospital.

AIDS House (providing care to HIV/AIDS patients)

S.A.M.S.S. (Employees' Medical and Social Assistance Service)

Clinics journal[edit]

Clinics

Discipline Medicine

Language English

Edited by Prof. Luiz Felipe Pinho Moreira MD-Ph.D

Publication details

Former name(s) Revista do Hospital das Clínicas

History 1946-present

Frequency Monthly

Impact factor 2.365 (2020)

Standard abbreviations

ISO 4 Clinics

NLM Clinics (Sao Paulo)

Indexing

ISSN 1807-5932 (print)

1980-5322 (web)

Links

Journal homepage

The hospital publishes Clinics an open access journal.[2] It is edited by Luiz Felipe Pinho Moreira.

Abstracting and indexing[edit]

The journal is indexed and abstracted in the following bibliographic databases:

Index Medicus/MEDLINE/PubMed[3]

Scopus[4]

Science Citation Index[citation needed]

LILACS

PubMed Central

Chronology[edit]

The base complex and satellite buildings have been built gradually since 1944. The chronology for each institute's starting year follows.

Units[edit]

Central Institute - 1944

Psychiatry Institute - 1952

Orthopedics and Traumatology Institute - 1953

Administration Building - 1972

Medical Investigation Laboratories - 1975

Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation (former Division of Rehabilitation Medicine)

Vila Mariana Unit - 1975

Umarizal Unit - 2001

Child Institute - 1976

Heart Institute - 1977

Ambulatory Building - 1981

Rebouças Convention Center - 1982

AIDS House - 1994

Radiology Institute - 1994

Cancer Institute - 2008

Assisting hospitals[edit]

Suzano Assisting Hospital - 1960

Cotoxó Assisting Hospital - 1971