

Grodno Airport (IATA: GNA, ICAO: UMMG) is an airport that serves Grodno, Belarus.

Contents

1 History

2 Airlines and destinations

3 References

4 External links

History[edit]

The airport opened in 1984, has a runway 2,560 meters long and a width of 42 meters, capable of take aircraft such as IL-76, Tu-154 and the lower class. Since 1993, the airport is allowed to perform international flights. In 2018, 180,145 passengers travelled via Grodno Airport.

Airlines and destinations[edit]

Airlines Destinations

Belavia Seasonal charter: Hurghada[citation needed]