Ivato International Airport (IATA: TNR, ICAO: FMMI) is the main international airport serving Antananarivo, the capital of Madagascar, located 16 km northwest of the city centre. Ivato Airport is the main hub for Air Madagascar and is located in the commune of Ivato.

Airlines and destinations[edit]

| Airlines | Destinations |
| --- | --- |
| Air Austral | Saint-Denis de la Réunion |
| Air France | Paris–Charles de Gaulle |
| Air Madagascar | Anjouan, Dzaoudzi, Guangzhou, Johannesburg–O. R. Tambo,[1] Marseille, Mauritius, Moroni, Paris–Charles de Gaulle, Saint-Denis de la Réunion |
| Air Mauritius | Mauritius |
| Airlink | Johannesburg–O. R. Tambo |
| Comores Aviation | Anjouan, Moroni |
| Ethiopian Airlines | Addis Ababa[2] |
| Kenya Airways | Nairobi–Jomo Kenyatta |
| Tsaradia | Antsiranana, Majunga, Maroantsetra, Morondava, Nosy-Be, Sainte Marie, Sambava, Toamasina, Tôlanaro, Toliara |
| Turkish Airlines | Istanbul[3] |

^note 1 Turkish Airlines to and from Istanbul makes a stopover in Mauritius. However, Turkish Airlines has no traffic rights between Antananarivo and Mauritius.

^note 2 Air Madagascar operates to Guangzhou with a stopover in Reunion.